They dwelt on the gallautry and dating of Packentam, laid much stress upon the superb Orleans will soon be in our pessession, and the newest and most popular designs. free navigation of the Mississippi assured to us." This greatly nettled Mr. Clay, who had determined never to concede the point as to the great river, which with prophetic eye he saw must one day become the grandest commercial highway on the globe, and se, with the instinct of the true Kentuckian, he at once offered to wager Lord Gambier that the British army would never capture New Orleans, and that Packenham would be disastrously defeated. "For," said he, "I am informed that Gen-Andrew Jackton, from Tonnesson, has gone to New Orleans, and I have the most implicit faith in his ability to cope with your army." Lord Gambier joy fully accepted the wager, which he fixed at a hundred guiness. When the news of the rout of the British Army at Chulmette and of the death of Packenham was received in Europe, Lord Gambier approached Mr. Clay at a grand ball—given, we believe, in honor of the success of the negotiations at Ghent—and handing him the hundred guiness, said: "Mr. Clay, ing him the hundred guiness, said: "Mr. Clay, I believe there are three kinds of being; under the special care and protection of divine Provi-dence-lunstics, drunkards and the American people."-N. IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

Reader, have you caught a cold? Are you unable to raise the phlogm? Have you an irritation in the threat? A sense of oppression on the lungs, with short breath? *Do you have a fit of coughing on lying down? A sharp pain now and then in a region of the heart, shoulders and back? IF SO, OUR ADVICE IS to take at once a dose of Tutt's Expectorant; you will soon be able to raise the phlegm. In an hour repeat the Expectorant, place a hot fron to the feet, take two of Tutt's Fills. You will soon fall into a pleasant sleep and wake up in the morning cough gone, buggs working freely; casy breathing and the bowels moving in a natural manner. To provent a return of these symptoms use the Expectorant several days.
